Easing the Transition to HITECH, HIPAA 5010 and ICD-10

The HITECH, HIPAA 5010 and ICD-10 initiatives proposed by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services present both a golden opportunity and a “perfect storm” for the healthcare industry. Portions of these initiatives are already in effect and the “convergence zone” will occur during the 2011–2013 timeframe.

Adequate assessment and preparation before the journey begins is a must. Paving the road with an effective strategy for addressing challenges and leveraging opportunities is essential if the trip is to be smooth. Having the right tools to track your progress, keep you on speed and on course, and avoid or overcome any obstacles along the way will ensure you reach your compliance destination on time.

JRepository® Compliance Solution and Approach

The JRepository Compliance solution is the pathway to rapidly capture all your organization’s system and process information, identify and develop a plan around the transition’s impact, and define the objectives that will, in turn, drive your transition strategy and execution plan. Once this roadmap is in place, the JRepository Compliance methodology promotes transparency, collaboration and communication between transition participants, and provides a framework for managing issues and timeline, developing internal skills and validating change outcomes. The solution also supports processes that work in parallel to reduce risk by measuring, refining and re-engaging the roadmap.

Merge the JRepository Compliance technology with our skilled consulting resources and you’ll have all the information, tools and support crew you’ll need to ride out the “perfect storm” and ensure a smooth, timely, cost-effective and opportunistic transition to meet regulatory requirements.

JRepository Compliance Tool Set and Consulting Components

Education

Our courseware provides background information on the HITECH, HIPAA 5010 and ICD-10 initiatives, discusses their current regulatory structure, compliance timeline, areas of opportunity and potential for impact to your business, and serves as a starting point for your organization-wide educational program. Our experienced training team is able to tailor the program message and delivery methods to best meet your business needs and transition strategy.

Compliance Solution

Assessments

Our assessments are collaborative and in an intuitive Web-based format that permits the quick and effective gathering of information from your organization's most knowledgeable resources.

Issue Management

The tool set increases transparency by providing issue identification, aggregation, escalation and remediation with a Web-based collaborative tool. Automated alerts and reminders drive deadlines and promote action.

Testing and Remediation

The confluence of assessment results, impact analysis and organizational strategy will drive system and process changes within your organization. Along with successful testing scenarios and scripts, our consulting teams can support your efforts to develop new specifications and to build, test and implement systems and supporting processes.

Application Readiness

As an outgrowth of testing and remediation, we will validate the integrity of code modifications and application integration plans, confirming that your systems are ready for ICD-10 activation.

Reporting

At the strategic reporting level, a Gap Analysis Report is generated during assessment, and pinpoint follow-up is conducted. This results almost immediately in the development of a formal Impact Statement and transition objectives. In turn, these steps lead to the development of an Organizational Transition Strategy. Regular progress reports are also provided for transition team members, managers and executives. Additional reports support issues, risk and inventory management throughout the transition.

Knowledge Center

The JRepository Compliance Knowledge Center is regularly refreshed to reflect Xerox Best Practices and to share collateral and policies from other successful transition endeavors. We research and provide links to regulatory sources and FAQs to keep your organization current on the latest news and information associated with HITECH, HIPAA 5010 and ICD-10.

Services

Xerox supports your organization throughout the transition with our portfolio of consulting services and solutions, including Revenue Cycle Redesign, System Selection and Implementation, Business Transformation and Automated Testing. We can also provide resources for revenue cycle adjustments, claims adjudication, and other at-risk business processes that may be negatively impacted during these transition periods.
